

THOSE WERE THE DAYS MY FRIEND..

KERRY SHENBAHN

THOSE

WERE

THE

Those were the happy, the carefree, the best days—they were our school days. Those were the days of laughter in the halls, secrets at the locker doors, anxious moments before tests,—yes, those were the days—our school days. Those were the days of young friendships,—ones that will linger forever in our memories. Those were the days of studying, learning, of exploring the unknown and discovering wisdom—the knowledge we never knew existed. Those days were the formation and basis of our lives to come.

So remember THOSE days my friend, for those days were OUR days, this was OUR school, and we were ALL friends. YES, THOSE WERE THE DAYS MY FRIEND.

"The Associated Student Body of Columbia High School is the government of the students. Its main purpose is to provide an opportunity for us to take an active part in government procedures. In order to preserve the rights which Americans have today we must be able to perform the duties which are obligated to us as citizens. The American Government can only be preserved by an understanding and appreciation of its system. The A.S.B. has been organized to help us acquire the knowledge of the working of the government so that we may better serve our community and our country in the years to come."

The cheerleaders advisor this year was Mrs. Robinson. They had several activities such as the Great Football, Spirit Hats, Coyotes Pennants, and they introduced our mascot, a coyote, which was 6 feet tall and each game one of the students would wear it as our mascot. This was made by Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, and the students would like to thank them at this time

Bonfire 69-70

The Homecoming Activities each year are started off by the bonfire, which is put on by the Junior class. It's a time that really starts the spirit moving. This year the Juniors had a contest to see which class could come up with the best mascot for their opponents. The Junior class took first place on their Wildcat (Washtucna). Then, each class threw theirs in the fire, as the enthusiastic students watched as their defenseless opponents went up in flames. As the night grew later, the fire grew dimmer and the spirit grew greater in hopes of a on coming VICTORY! The Homecoming rivalities were the Washtucna Wildcats

SEATTLE FIRST

Kerry,

You should really come back here to good old Burbank. But if you like it here I guess I'll let you live there.
Stay out of trouble + keep the girls at trouble.

Mike Reed

Henry,
Well down
do you like it are you like it you will ever or down here and don't want to hand this summer

...any I'll be here a short year back down here where its warm. Its too bad that you had to leave cause he could have had a great time this summer.

I'm going to be going to Florida this summer and I'm going to stay there for about 2 1/2 months. I'm going to try to get a job down there. I hope I can get a little money worked up, but if I don't get a job I'll just sit around and do nothing and think like that.
I'm just going to hang on the mach and have a bunch of girls and I'll be sometime in the future.

S. S. "Sometimes"

1. The first part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and the role of the auditor in ensuring the integrity of the financial statements. It also highlights the need for transparency and accountability in the reporting process.

2. The second part of the report focuses on the specific challenges faced by auditors in the current business environment, particularly in the context of digital transformation and the increasing complexity of financial data. It explores the impact of these challenges on the audit process and the need for innovative solutions.

3. The third part of the report provides a detailed analysis of the various factors that can influence the outcome of an audit, including the quality of the internal controls, the competence of the audit team, and the overall state of the company's financial health. It also discusses the potential consequences of audit failure and the steps that can be taken to prevent such outcomes.

4. The final part of the report offers a series of recommendations for improving the audit process and enhancing the reliability of financial reporting. These recommendations are based on the findings of the report and are designed to address the key challenges identified in the previous sections.
